Revision Activities

1. Topic Summary Sheets

Task: Students create one-page summaries for each OCR topic (e.g., Business Activity, Marketing, Finance, HR, Operations).

Include: Key terms, formulas (like break-even), diagrams, and real-world examples.

Why: Encourages concise note-making and active recall.

2. Flashcard Self-Testing

Task: Make flashcards for OCR key terms and concepts (e.g., market segmentation, cash flow forecast).

Method: Use physical cards or apps like Quizlet for spaced repetition.

Why: Builds strong memory of definitions and formulas.

3. Past Paper Practice

Task: Complete one OCR past paper under timed conditions.

Extension: Mark answers using the official OCR mark scheme to understand command words (analyse, evaluate).

Why: Improves exam technique and time management.

4. Formula Drill

Task: Write down and practice OCR-required formulas (e.g., break-even point, revenue, profit).

Extension: Create your own mini-scenarios and calculate answers.

Why: Reinforces quantitative skills needed for finance questions.

5. Case Study Application

Task: Pick a real business (e.g., a local shop or a well-known brand).

Apply OCR topics: How does it handle marketing, finance, HR, and operations? Write short notes or a mini-report.

Why: Strengthens application skills for scenario-based questions.
